

EDGEWOOD

OCTOBER 2007

Council Swears in Reese McCardle as Second Junior Council Person

Reese McCardle, a 17-year-old junior at Woodland Hills High School, was sworn in as Edgewood's second junior council person this fall.

An active participant in WHHS's gifted program, Reese is involved in Model UN and the World Affairs Council. He spent a month volunteering with the Student Conservation Association at the Delaware Watergap National Recreation Area working on trails throughout the park.

Perhaps as a stepping stone to his new role on council, Reese has been on Student Council for five years, and at press time, was awaiting the results of the current election, in which he was running for class president.

Reese says he applied for the junior council position "to gain the ultimate civics lesson on municipal government." Reese wants to be involved in politics in some way in the future, and is planning to study political science. Right now, he's looking at Georgetown, George Washington, American, and Carnegie Mellon Universities.

Reese says that taking the oath of office from Mayor Jean Davin, shaking the council members' hands and "crossing over to the other side of that gate" were powerful experiences. "I'm looking forward to taking all I can from this," he said.

Reese credits Council Member Heidi McDonald, who first proposed the junior council program to Edgewood, with helping him learn the ropes.

In addition to his interest in politics, Reese is an amateur filmmaker who has had work shown at Pittsburgh Filmmakers' "Film Kitchen" event. He also runs cross country and track and shoots on the rifle team at Woodland Hills. Reese lives on Vine Street with his parents, Pat McCardle and Nancy Reese, and his younger sister Tess.

TAKING THE OATH: Council Member Heidi McDonald watches as Reese McCardle is sworn in as Edgewood's second junior council member.

Four Candidates; Four Council Slots in November 6 General Election

In the November 6 General Election, three candidates will run for three four-year terms and one candidate for one two-year term on Edgewood Borough Council.

Running for the four-year seats are incumbent and current Council President Pat Schaefer (D), Nancy Price (R), and Scott Harding (R). Running for the two-year term is Ben Reynolds (D). At press time, the newsletter had information submitted by three of the candidates.

Pat Schaefer is living in the third Edgewood house in 20 years with her children, Katie and Andy Peters. She is a cancer research nurse at the Hillman Cancer Center. Pat has been on council since 2000, and has served as both vice president and president. She is the Edgewood representative to the Basins Group of 3 Rivers Wet Weathe. Pat considers it an honor to represent Edgewood and to serve the community.

Nancy Price is running for council "to ensure that Edgewood remains the healthy and vibrant place to live, work and visit that it has always been." Nancy moved here with her family in the late 1950s, and has found Edgewoodians to have a strong sense of community pride that fosters both democratic values and civic participation.

Nancy has done doctoral work and holds an M.Ed. She has worked in education, welfare and probation, and has participated in a variety of Edgewood civic activities, including serving a term as president of the Garden Club. She believes she has the insight and practical experience to collaborate with others to maintain the original vision for Edgewood.

Ben Reynolds comes from a family tradition of municipal service. His grandfather and father served as volunteer firemen, mayors and council members in what he calls "our tiny Iowa town," where Ben grew up on a farm. He spent four years in the Navy before studying to become a physician assistant. He is currently practicing in trauma and acute care surgery at UPMC Presbyterian. He has been married to his wife Raquel for three years and they have a daughter Elena.

Ben says that in three years, he and his family have become very attached to the tree-lined neighborhoods, the friendly people, the excellent police protection and an incredible and unique community spirit, which he has observed as both a resident and a volunteer fire fighter. His goal is to help Edgewood sustain its charms.

Progressive Dinner 2008

This year's progressive dinner will be held on Feb. 9, 2008. We are making a few changes this year. We are moving desserts back into a home – how about yours? We are also having the main course catered, so no one will have to make chicken this year. The meal will be delivered to the dinner hosts' home as before, early in the day. We are hopeful that these changes will make this great event even better. Please read the sign-up form below to RSVP as soon as possible. Try something new – sign up for something you haven't done before. I promise you won't be asked to make chicken!

If you are new to the event, here is how it works: First, you send in your RSVP, with your choice of a responsibility you would like to take on for the event. Next, someone will call you closer to the event to give you more directions about your choice, where to go for appetizers and what time to show up (we start at approximately 5:30 p.m.). After cocktails, you will continue to a different house for dinner. This house is a surprise until you get your nametag at cocktails. Dinner lasts until about 9:30, when we all gather for desserts at yet another location.

This extremely enjoyable event is a great time to meet new people and catch up with friends you haven't seen for awhile. Please consider joining us for this great fundraiser on February 9.

Pittsburgh Filmmakers

The Foundation is pleased to announce a pledge of $15,000 over three years to support the Pittsburgh Filmmakers' capital improvements at the Regent Square Theater. This generous grant is tangible recognition of how important the theater is for the cultural environment of Edgewood and for the economic vitality of our neighborhoods.

Beautification and Clean Up

Thanks to Edgewood citizens Cathy and Ernie Dettore, Connie Black, and Lois and Harry Winslow who recently braved traffic for the Foundation's regular clean up of Brinton Road. Thanks too to near-by neighbors Karen and Pat Doyle who welcomed everyone for refreshments after their hard work. If you would care to join us at the next scheduled clean up, meet at the parking lot of Holiday Inn on Saturday, December 7 at 9:30 a.m. Bring gloves. Everything else will be provided.

Garden Partnership

The Foundation will partner with the Garden Club on Saturday, October 20 to help in planting and clean up of cultivated areas throughout the borough. If you care to volunteer, please email Niki Augustine at niki.augustine@gmail.com.

Newcomers Thanks

Thanks to the Elaine and Bud Andrews for the use of their beautiful home for our annual Newcomers reception in September.

Light Up Night

Meet Santa Claus on Friday, December 7 when once again the Edgewood Foundation hosts Light Up Night at the Edgewood Club. Donna Hansen and Donna Lewis are in charge of this fun, family event. Look for more details in the November newsletter.

Vacancy on the Board

We are still accepting letters of interest and phone inquiries for the open spot on the board. We know there a lot of you out there who have shown an interest in the Edgewood Foundation, here is your opportunity. Meetings are once monthly and you will be asked to head a committee. Please bring letters of interest to Borough Building Attn: Edgewood Foundation, or call Lois Winslow (412) 241-6749.

WPSD

Gala & Auction

The 2007 Fall-In Auction & Gala will take place on October 20 from 6:30-9:30 p.m. at the John Heinz History Center. Anyone interested in attending or donating items for the event can contact the Fall-In office at (412) 244-4207. Information is also available on our website at wpsd.org.

Campus Security

Anyone who drives past or enters the WPSD campus can see the security measures that are being built and are close to completion.

This increase in security is not in response to activities in the neighboring communities, but in response to a changing world. It's a sad commentary when a school needs to build walls, but the security of our students is one of our first priorities.

A guard will be on duty from 6 a.m.-8 p.m. at the Swissvale Avenue entrance to campus. People visiting campus must enter at that gate. To leave campus, visitors must use the exit near the corner of Swissvale and Walnut Avenues. The exit gate will be activated automatically when a car approaches. No one will be able to enter campus at that gate.

The School Street entrance to campus will be closed from 12:30 a.m.-4:30 a.m.

WPSD is proud of our students and our campus. We still welcome our neighbors to visit, but now we ask that you call first.

Alumni Website

The Woodland Hills School District has begun a webpage devoted to WHSD alumni news. It is currently a subpage of the public relations page of the district's site (www.whsd.k12.pa.us), but there is a link on the news page that takes readers directly there. Alumni with news to share are encouraged to send it to mccoma@whsd.net.

Search for Memorabilia

The Woodland Hills School District Athletic Program is kicking off a search for memorabilia, stories, photos, year-books, uniforms, trophies, plaques -- anything that would help tell the story of athletic triumphs, not only of the Woodland Hills School District since the merger, but also the past glories of the many high schools and sports programs that were a vital part of the neighborhoods that evolved into the WHSD.

The district is hoping that residents will search their attics, basements, closets and garages to find souvenirs that will be displayed at the high school on the District Wall of Fame. Anyone interested in helping with this project should contact Assistant Athletic Director Korie Morton at the high school, (412) 244-1100, ext. 5141, or e-mail her at mortko@whsd.net.

Magical Nights

The Edgewood Symphony Orchestra's 2007/2008 season has the theme Magical Nights!

The first Magical Night, A Night of Great Classics, will take place on Saturday, October 20 at 7:30 p.m. at the JCC Katz Auditorium in Squirrel Hill. This concert will feature Dvorak's Symphony No. 8 in G Major (which happens to be the favorite symphony of Walter Morales, the ESO's Music Director), the well-known and festive Candide Overture by Bernstein, and the powerful Violin Concerto in D Major by Brahms, featuring Cyrus Forough, violin soloist. Mr. Forough is a full-time Professor at Carnegie Mellon University in Pittsburgh, Artist Teacher of Roosevelt University's College of Performing Arts in Chicago, and a faculty member of the Chicago Institute of Music.

Holiday Concert

Also be sure to mark your calendars for A Night Before Christmas on Saturday, December 8 at 7:30 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church of Edgewood. Featuring holiday favorites and local soloists and choirs, this concert has become an Edgewood tradition which serves as a great kickoff to the holiday season.

For more information or to request a season brochure, visit www.edgewood-symphony.org or call (412) 473-8880.

Post Card Display

On display in the memorabilia cases of the C.C. Mellor Memorial Library will be a display of post cards featuring radio entertainers in Pittsburgh in the golden era of radio. Many are fan cards sent by entertainers such as Bernie Armstrong, Ed and Wendy King, Bill Hinds, Stockman Sam, Bill Brant, and Slim Bryant and his Wild Cats. Also displayed will be early period cards of Westinghouse Broadcasting when their studio was located in East Pittsburgh.

Edgewood has many connections to early radio. Descendants of radio broadcasting pioneer Frank Conrad in Edgewood. One is David Conrad, the well-known TV actor. In November of 1920 the presidential elections returns (Harding) were broadcast at the Edgewood Club considered the first broadcast to a large group in the United States. Bernie Armstrong resided at West Hutchinson Ave in the fifties and his children graduated from Edgewood High School. This display will be back a lot of memories to the more senior residents and show the younger generation what media was like in the twentieth century.

Garden Club

Yum-Yum!

The Edgewood Garden Club's Annual Business Meeting and Luncheon will be held at the Edgewood Club on Monday, November 5, 12-2 p.m. Following the election of new officers, Sandy Feather of the Penn State Cooperative Extension of Allegheny County and a Pittsburgh Post-Gazette Home and Garden columnist, will be the featured speaker. As always, everyone is welcome to attend.

Burr!

With Christmas just around the corner, it's never too early to make those proverbial lists of all your upcoming holiday needs. With that thought in mind, remember to look for our order form in the next issue of this newsletter, which will be featuring all the various greens and things that will be available at the Edgewood Garden Club's annual Christmas Greens Sale on Wednesday, December 5 at the Edgewood Club. Leaf Pick Up

Leaf pick-up season is almost upon us. We have moved the pick-up days around so please look at when your street is scheduled. Our leaf pick-up season will begin on Friday, October 26. Pick-up is scheduled from Friday through Wednesday.

The borough would like to see you bring your leaves to the curb line the night before your scheduled day of leaf pickup if possible. Please: no sticks, old plants, bushes or any other foreign matter should be put out with the leaves. This causes the leaf vacuum to clog and slows down the pick-up considerably.

If inclement weather causes pick up on a particular day to be suspended in all likelihood we will not be back to your street until the following week (on your regularly scheduled day). I know that when this happens it is inconvenient. We will try to get back to that street during the same week, but can make no guarantees. If we are constantly backtracking then our entire pick-up schedule is thrown off and there will be no predictability for pick up. Please remember the Public Works staff is doing there very best to keep up with leaves by working extra hours and weekends. Please treat them respectfully.

The leaf pick-up schedule appears on page 10 of this newsletter and will be posted on the borough website.

Tax Time

School Tax

The Woodland Hills School tax is due at face until the end of October. If you are paying in installments the second installment is due by November 30. If a payment is late, there will be a 10% penalty added on to that payment.

Borough Tax

The Edgewood Borough tax is due at penalty. I am in the process of sending out reminders to those who have not paid yet. This tax can be paid until December 10, and then it will then be turned over as delinquent to PAMS.

EVFD

Parkway Exit Accident

On August 24 the EVFD was dispatched to a motor vehicle accident with injuries and entrapment at the Edgewood/Swissvale exit ramp. Crews arrived to find that a truck had driven into a pine tree and the driver was pinned inside the cab of the vehicle. Thanks to the expertise of Capt. Steve Halle, Lt. Doug Greer, Engineer Mark Ratajeski, driver Bruce Beitle, and firefighter Steve Krumholz, the driver is alive today. The equipment and knowledge this crew was armed with allowed the patient to be extricated and on the way to a trauma center in approximately 16 minutes. Swissvale FD, Forest Hills VFD and Woodland Hills EMS assisted EVFD. Everyone who was on scene that day deserves a great deal of credit for their extraordinary job they did.

New Member

Hikmat Daghestani has recently joined the department. HD is a student at Pitt and was a member of Meadville Fire Department. We are also interviewing two additional members at the time of writing this article and will announce their names next month. Visit www.station137.com for info on becoming a member and to see what the EVFD has been up to.

$25 Gas Card

EVFD will award the winner of the most decorated and scariest house on the hayride route a $25 gas card. The hayride will be held in conjunction with the haunted house October 19-20 and 26-27. Anyone wanting to be in the field to scare riders is also welcome (sorry no prize for this). The route is Race Street, West Hutchinson, Mifflin, Savannah, West Hutchinson, Short Race and back to Koenig Field.

Safety Corner

Don't forget to have your furnace checked by a certified furnace company. The same warning toes for any wood burning devices you may be using to heat your house. Carbon monoxide is a colorless, odorless and tasteless gas that is deadly. Install carbon monoxide monitors near each sleeping area. Smoke detectors should also be installed inside each sleeping area as well as on every level of your home. Remember: you're more likely to hear a smoke detector in your room than through a closed door.

EDGEWOOD COMMUNITY ORGANIZATIONS

Nine Mile Run

Native Seed Collection Workshop

Join the Nine Mile Run Watershed Association on Saturday, October 13 at 9 a.m. for a popular workshop now in its second year. Meet with expert Kathy McGregor at the Frick Environmental Center. The workshop will focus on proper techniques for collecting and storing the seeds of native plants. Registration is limited, so the association requests that you register early. Lunch is being provided by the East End Food Co-op. To register or for more information, call Jeff at (412) 371-8779 or jeff@ninemilerun.org.

Stream Sweep

Meet in the lower parking lot off the Lancaster Avenue entrance to Frick

Park at 9:30 a.m. on Saturday, October 27 to help sweep the stream clean of the litter that washes down in every rain. The sweep is hard and dirty work, so wear long sleeves, long pants, and sturdy shoes. All supplies and lunch will be provided. Please pre-register for this event.

State of the Watershed 2007

More than 120 people attended the State of the Watershed events held in early September. Participants learned about the history of Nine Mile Run, the current programs underway in the watershed, and how to make positive changes on their properties to improve the watershed for the future.

The Scientific Reports page of the NMRWA website contains several reports, one of which mentions the relative health of the street trees in Edgewood (particularly the pin oaks), which are responsible for absorbing

3,500 gallons of storm water runoff per year per tree, in addition to beautifying the neighborhood and adding to property values.

Rain Barrel Initiative 2007

One of NMRWA's main goals this year will be undertaking a study of the effectiveness of rain barrels as a method of controlling wet weather runoff that carries pollutants into Nine Mile Run.

Watershed residents residing in one of the study neighborhoods will receive free rain barrels including installation and technical support. All Nine Mile Run Watershed residents are encouraged to purchase their own barrels from the association below cost.

For details on the rain barrel program and pricing, check out the Rain Barrel web page or call us at (412) 371-3095.

Haunted Halloween Happenings Help to Horrify Hedgewoodians

Oops. We seem to have gotten carried away with our halliteration. At any rate, Edgewood has a long and terrifying tradition of celebrating Halloween. Some of the local events include:

Annual Library Parade and Party

Little ghosts and goblins are invited to the annual C.C. Mellor Memorial Library Halloween Parade and Party, to be held on Thursday, October 25. The parade starts at 6 p.m. sharp, and registration is required by October 24.

Scare the Crafts Out of Your Kids

With Halloween crafts at the library on Saturday, October 27 at noon. Register by Thursday, October 25. For more information about these and other library events, see page two of this newsletter.

Haunted House and Hayrides

Edgewood Recreation and Edgewood Volunteer Fire Department team up once again to haunt the neighborhood in and around Koenig Field.

Both will be held October 19-20 and 26-27. More information about the hayrides appears on page 7. At press time, the terrifying details of haunted house had not yet been laid to rest. Watch the recreation information board for the latest in horror.

Trick or Treat

Trick or Treat will be held on Halloween night, Wednesday, October 19. Edgewood police and fire fighters will be patrolling the streets to help keep your little ghosts and goblins safe.

Filmmakers Creep You Out

Pittsburgh Filmmakers' Sunday Night Series at the Regent Square Theater gets into the seriously creepy:

- Oct. 7: Rosemary's Baby
A mother-to-be suspects her elderly neighbors are not the kindly souls they appear to be. She soon discovers they are the leaders of a coven of witches and that her creepy husband, a struggling actor, allowed the devil to impregnate her in exchange for a successful career. Trouble is, she can't get anyone to believe her. (Roman Polanski; USA; 1968; 136 min)
- Oct. 14: The Devil's Backbone

Creepily atmospheric and haunting, this precursor to Pan's Labyrinth is both a ghost story and an intelligent political allegory. Set during the Spanish Civil War, it's the dramatic tale of a boy discovering secrets while learning the ropes at an orphanage. This film is more reliant on great suspenseful filmmaking than overblown special effects. (Guillermo del Toro; Spain; 2001; 110 min)

- Oct. 21: Peeping Tom
It doesn't get much creepier than this Technicolor masterpiece about a psychopath who murders women while using a movie camera to record their dying expressions of terror. Though we may be shocked by this demented voyeur, Roger Ebert says the movies make us all voyeurs. (Michael Powell; UK; 1960; 109 min)

- Oct. 28: Planet of Vampires

This deliciously creepy horror/sci-fi from Italian master Mario Bava involves astronauts landing on an alien planet inhabited by hostile beings – more zombies than vampires, but no matter. Watch for the famous scene where the aliens rise from their foggy graves in slow-motion! Many buffs believe the Alien movies borrowed from this classic. (Mario Bava; Italy; 1965; 86 min)
